Project Summary

Honduras

Support for Municipal Community Actions, Housing and Vocational and Business Training

Client

European Commission / EC

Duration

Personnel

- 2 EU LTE (80 PM) as Program Director and Administrative Director
- 5 STE (52 PM) as Architect, VT expert, and Expert for disaster prevention and others

Services Provided

- Disaster/Emergency Planning
- Feasibility Studies
- Institutional Strengthening/Restructuring
- Management Advisory Services, Procurement Services
- Project Management/Administration, Project Monitoring and Evaluation
- Regional Development Plans
- Supervision/Inspection of Construction and of Equipment Installation
- Technical Assistance and Advisory Services, Training and Transfer of Technology

---

Project Background

The project is part of the EC Regional Reconstruction Programme for Central America (PRAAC). The principal aim of the PRAAC is to contribute to the rehabilitation and improvement of infrastructure and equipment, as well as to improve the management of schools, housing and sanitation services, in those areas most affected by Hurricane Mitch.

Project Objective

Against this background, the project's overall objective was to strengthen community actions by supporting solutions to environmental problems, the reduction in dangers caused by natural phenomena, the reduction of the housing deficit and the generation of employment.

The projects comprised five components:
1. Environmental awareness raising and education,
2. Sustainable local development,
3. Construction and rehabilitation of housing,
4. Education and vocational training,
5. Training in rural business management.

---

Project Background

The project is part of the EC Regional Reconstruction Programme for Central America (PRAAC). The principal aim of the PRAAC is to contribute to the rehabilitation and improvement of infrastructure and equipment, as well as to improve the management of schools, housing and sanitation services, in those areas most affected by Hurricane Mitch.

Project Objective

Against this background, the project's overall objective was to strengthen community actions by supporting solutions to environmental problems, the reduction in dangers caused by natural phenomena, the reduction of the housing deficit and the generation of employment.

The projects comprised five components:
1. Environmental awareness raising and education,
2. Sustainable local development,
3. Construction and rehabilitation of housing,
4. Education and vocational training,
5. Training in rural business management.